

Is there a dynamite novice teacher in your department or school?
Take a few minutes to nominate him or her for NEATE's

Marian Gleason Most Promising New Teacher Award

The Marian Gleason Award, which is presented annually at the NEATE Fall Conference, goes to a teacher with one to three years' full-time experience teaching English/Language Arts who exhibits the following qualities:

- Extensive knowledge of his or her discipline
- Interest in and concern for students and the ability to challenge and motivate them
- Involvement in professional organizations and/or staff development.

To nominate a colleague, friend, or associate, fill in the blanks below and briefly explain how this teacher meets the criteria listed above. NEATE will contact the nominee for additional information.

Name of Nominee: _____

Position: _____ Level: Elementary Middle School High School College

School Address: _____

Phone: _____ E-mail: _____

Your Name: _____

Position: _____ Level: Elementary Middle School High School College

School Address: _____

Phone: _____ E-mail: _____

Reasons for nomination (you may continue on the back): _____

Submit this form by mail to:
Barbara Wahlberg, NEATE Awards Chair, 27 Kent Street, Cumberland, RI 02864

Nomination deadline: July 1, 2010