
The New England Association of Teachers of English

109th Annual Conference – October 22-23, 2010
Holiday Inn Mansfield-Foxboro, Mansfield, MA

TEACHING THE NEXT GENERATION: DIVERSITY IN THE ENGLISH CLASSROOM

Friday Luncheon Speaker

Len Cabral

master storyteller, Circle of Excellence Award winner of the National Storytelling Network, will inspire and delight fall conference-goers with his artistry.

Professional Development

The 2010 NEATE conference will feature 25 workshops on all aspects of diversity in the classroom: from using teaching strategies that benefit English Language Learners and special needs students to making the curriculum inclusive.

The conference will be held at the Holiday Inn in Mansfield, MA, at the junction of I-95 and I-495, south of Boston, not far from the Wrentham Mall and Foxboro's Gillette Stadium.

Saturday Brunch Speaker

Lisa Green

author of African American English: A Linguistic Introduction,

will address classroom implications of linguistic diversity and lead a follow-up workshop.

Complete conference information will be sent in early September. If you have any questions, contact one of the conference co-chairs, Ed Darling (edarling@sbschools.net) or Barbara Wahlberg (barbarawahlberg@hotmail.com), or visit www.neate.org.
